This is to certify that at a meeting of the Court of Common Council, June 9, 2014, the following RESOLUTION was passed.

Whereas, Mildred Jeter Loving and Richard Perry Loving (hereby referred to as "Lovings") married for love; and

Whereas, In 1958 the Commonwealth of Virginia had an existing anti-miscegenation law (The Racial Integrity Act) that criminalized marriage between whites and other races; and

Whereas, The Lovings were compelled to get married in Washington D.C. (where it was legal), but were arrested after returning to Virginia since it was legal to marry in another state and return to Virginia; and

Whereas, On January 6, 1959, the Lovings pled guilty and were sentenced to one year in prison, with the sentence suspended for 25 years on condition that the couple leave the state of Virginia, the Lovings fought the law taking their case to the Supreme Court; and

Whereas, The Supreme Court ruled June 12, 1967 that Virginia's anti-miscegenation statute violated both the Due Process clause and Equal Protection clause of the 14th Amendment; and

Whereas, Loving v. Virginia was a landmark case, both in the history of race relations in the United States and in the ongoing political and cultural dispute over the proper definition of marriage; and

Whereas, On June 12, 2007, Mildred Loving issued a rare public statement, which commented on same-sex marriage, prepared for delivery on the fortieth anniversary of the Loving v. Virginia decision of the US Supreme Court. The concluding paragraphs of her statement read as follows:

"I am still not a political person, but I am proud that Richard's and my name is on a court case that can help reinforce the love, the commitment, the fairness, and the family that so many people, black or white, young or old, gay or straight seek in life. I support the freedom to marry for all. That's what Loving, and loving, are all about"; and

Whereas, Ken Tanabe established the Loving Day Project to commemorate the anniversary of the Loving decision every year on or around June 12th, with the goal of Loving Day to be celebrated nationwide by assisting with the development of events around the country; and

Whereas, Mixed Roots Stories was established with the mission of celebrating and strengthening diverse Mixed communities through the power of sharing stories, including collaboration with the Loving Day Project to facilitate annual Loving Day events; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That by the adoption of this resolution, the Court of Common Council of the City of Hartford, hereby recognize Friday, June 12, 2014 as "LOVING DAY" in the city of Hartford.
